The meeting was called to order.

Discussion took place regarding the committee's interest in organizing an anti-violence celebration in April 2018. We have requested a permit to use the block of 137th street (between Adam Clayton Powell Boulevard and Malcolm X Boulevard) for the event. The celebration will be between the hours of 2pm to 7pm and will include, music, food and festivities relating anti-violence.

The committee also discussed Police Athletic League's ("PAL") request that CB10 support its efforts to expand the organization's programming and increase connections with the local community. PAL works with kids 11 to 18 years old by providing them with athletic activities afterschool and on weekends. They are seeking additional resources so it can continue to help adolescents residing in Harlem.

Announcements:

An announcement was made that the Public Safety Committee will be hosting the Civilian Complaint Review Board's March 14, 2018 public meeting. The CCRB conducts bimonthly public meetings throughout New York City. The meetings are an opportunity for local residents to speak directly with law enforcement agents as well as members of the CCRB about issues they may have with the New York City Police Department. All parties are welcome to attend.
