We Are Expanding Our Service Reach
"Professional Styling"
Refer A Woman for Professional Styling

We Want To Reach MORE WOMEN.

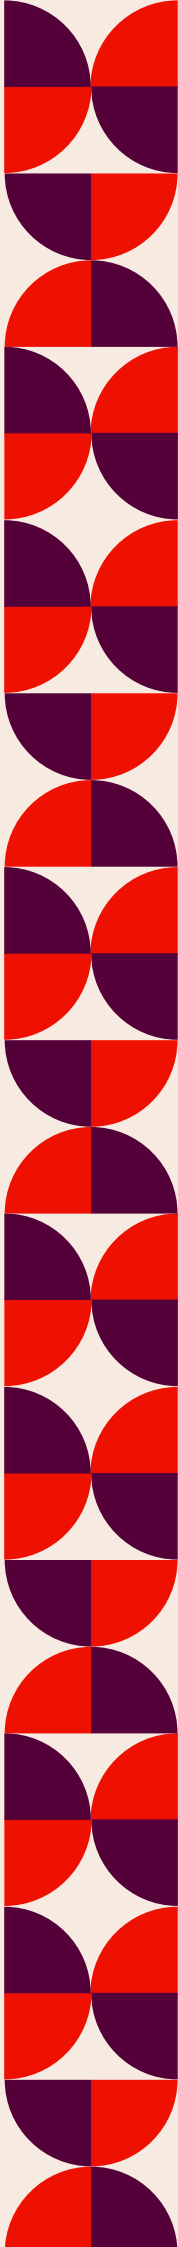

You're eligible for professional styling if you have:

- A new job, interview, internship, or career fair
- A college graduation date
- A research paper presentation
- Enrollment in Continuing Education or GED programs
- An apartment rental appointment
- A home purchase date
- A return date from incarceration
- A return date from inpatient/outpatient care
- Completion of substance use treatment
- An immigration services appointment
- A confirmed family, criminal, or civil court date
- A return from military service

COMPLETE PROFESSIONAL OUTFIT. During your appointment, a trained volunteer will help you pick out a complete, professional outfit suited to your needs. Together, we'll make sure you leave feeling confident, polished, and ready for what's next.

Presenting your research? Look as sharp as your work.

Case competitions, symposiums, professional conferences — you've put in the work. Now let's make sure what you're wearing matches it. Free professional styling for college students preparing to present, network, or represent their school on a bigger stage.

For Programs & Partners

We'd love to be a resource your students can turn to before conferences, symposiums, or competitions — free styling support so they can walk in as confident as they are prepared.

Justice-Involved Women

<https://bit.ly/4xC2fNd>

You're rebuilding. We are here for that.

Coming home after involvement with the justice system means a lot of firsts — first interview, first day, first time walking into a room and wanting to feel like yourself again. Dress for Success GNYC offers free professional styling and career building support for exactly that moment, no judgment, no explanation needed.

For Programs & Partners

If your program supports women reentering their communities, we'd love to be a resource you can point them to for styling, interview prep, and career support — free of charge.

Walk into that courtroom ready.

A family court date. A custody hearing. A criminal proceeding. However you got here, how you show up matters – and you shouldn't have to figure that out alone. We'll help you get dressed, get grounded, and get through it.

For Programs & Partners

For clients with upcoming court dates, we offer free professional styling and confidence building so every woman can walk in feeling prepared and respected – happy to be listed as a resource for your team.

Meeting Your Landlord?

Let's Get You Ready.

Signing your first lease, walking into an apartment viewing, sitting across from a landlord — it's a milestone, and it deserves the same confidence as a job interview. We'll help you show up polished and ready to make your case.

For Programs & Partners

We've expanded our styling services to support first-time renters and women navigating housing searches — a resource you're welcome to share with clients preparing for viewings or lease signings.
