District Manager

October 2020 Full Board Meeting Minutes

PRESENTATIONS / PUBLIC HEARINGS	Presentation: Deputy Inspector Steven M. Hellman 13th Precinct Inspector Hellman began by noting that crimes in the precinct were down 11% for the year, with only 167 crimes reported. Compared to 2018, the reduction is 20%. Crimes were down in every category except vehicle theft where there were 9 this year compared to 7 last year. Quality-of-life type crimes are a continuing issue with low-level random assaults being an example. There were 21 such assaults this year and they were committed mostly by homeless individuals who have a greater presence than in earlier periods. He has been working with the Department of Homeless Services to address this problem. Inspector Hellman went on to answer questions, including one about how calls of shots fired are treated and another about how he deals with crimes committed on the border of a contiguous precinct. He also noted that COVID has had a great impact on his precinct with 65% of his officers being infected at the same time. In answer to a question, he explained the policy regarding the wearing of masks by officers on the street. He stated that officers are required to wear masks where social distancing is not possible and that there is a disciplinary process in place for officers who do not comply. Regarding a question about the jurisdiction of the NYPD over the homeless, he stated that every 911 or 311 call into the precinct is responded to. What that means is that if the responding officers observe a crime such as drug use, for example, an arrest will be made. If a responding officer comes upon a homeless encampment, then, unlike in the past, no enforcement action will be taken, and the Department of Homeless Services will be called to deal with it. In answer to a final question regarding measures that the NYPD will be taking to ensure safety at polling sites, the Inspector stated that there have been numerous planning meetings in the NYPD and that patrols would be enhanced during the election. Every officer in the city will be on 12-hour tours during the election.

Public Session
Ryan Brodsky	Mr. Brodsky complained about Astro's Dog Run being closed for a month and a half or two months and his inability to obtain information about it. The District Manager advised Mr. Brodsky during the meeting that the Board staff would continue to work with him to get the situation straightened out.
Aimee Todoroff	Ms. Todoroff spoke about two bills coming before the City Council on October 15. The bills, Intro 2068 and Intro 2034 would work in tandem to create a streamlined way for arts and cultural groups to activate outdoor public spaces in much the same way restaurants access Open Streets. The legislation will create an interactive map that lets New Yorkers see what is happening in their community. She asked the Board to write a letter to Speaker Johnson voicing support for the bills.

Guy Yedwab	Mr. Yedwab requested CB4 support for the same Open Culture legislation as the previous speaker. He stressed the needs of small cultural institutions like dance and theatre venues that are unable to operate while still being on the hook for rent every month. He noted that CB4 covers the densest area in terms of cultural institutions and venues so providing for outdoor public performances is a way for these institutions to survive. He thanked Senator Robert Jackson, who was present at the meeting, for support of rent relief bills that are now in Albany.
Nancy Sliwa	Ms. Sliwa spoke on behalf of her husband Curtis and the Guardian Angels organization that he founded in 1979 as an unarmed volunteer group to provide community patrols throughout the city. The organization is comprised of men and women who operate in 13 countries and 39 cities around the world. They have offered their services to various communities in the city during the coronavirus lockdown because of an increase in crime and quality-of-life issues. Several members of the Guardian Angels live in Chelsea and want to offer their help to the community there, in particular concerning the corridor on 8th Avenue between 20th and 22nd Streets where drug-dealing and open drug use are on the rise. Anyone who wishes to engage with the organization can do so at their meetings on Thursdays at 7:30 pm and Saturdays at 1:00 pm on Eighth Avenue and 14th Street.
Brian Weber	Mr. Weber is a resident of West 36th Street in Hell’s Kitchen and a public member of CB4. He is also the interim co-chair of the newly-formed 36th Street Block Association and, as such, he spoke in support of the letter that is the subject of Agenda Item 12, which is a letter out of the HH&HS Committee addressing the hotel shelters in the West 30s. He called for reducing the number of temporary shelters sited in the hotels on West 36th and 37th Streets by relocating at least one or more of the shelters. He mentioned his previous four appearances at CB4 meetings and lamented the lack of progress in resolving the problems facing the residents in the neighborhood.
Allen Marc	Mr. Marc is another resident of the West 30s seeking support in addressing the safety issues affecting the children and seniors in his neighborhood. He complained of getting no help from the Mayor’s office in dealing with the over-population of homeless shelters whose residents now out-number existing residents. He complained of his inability to find a realtor who will list his apartment because they claim it is impossible to sell an apartment in the neighborhood due to the current density of shelters.
Randy Barksdale	Mr. Barksdale, who has lived on West 36th Street for 22 years, stated that he has never seen conditions deteriorate as he has recently. He asked for the Board’s support because he has had none from public officials.
Alexander Mattielli	Mr. Mattielli is also a resident of West 36th Street who reiterated the sentiments expressed by the previous speakers. He complained of getting no help from city officials and pointed to his experience of seeing people arrested and released from the precinct just a few hours later.
Lisa Wager	Ms. Wager is the Director of the Office of Government Relations at the Fashion Institute of Technology. She is a regular speaker at CB4 meetings, and this month made the following announcements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Genesis Jerez, a 2016 BFA graduate of FIT, began her term on October 1 as one of four Artists-in-Residents at The Studio Museum in Harlem. This 11-month program awards a $20,000 stipend and the artist’s work is exhibited at the museum during their term. • Several FIT alumni designed the dresses worn by Beyonce in Black is King the feature-length visual album inspired by The Lion King.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Center for Continuing Professional Studies is offering pre-college courses for high school and middle school students as well as credit, non-credit, and certificate programs for adults.

Remarks from Elected Officials and Representatives

Senator Robert Jackson	Senator Jackson gave the following updates: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> He and his staff have met virtually through Zoom with the residents of West 36th Street and the Commander of Midtown South to bring about a resolution of the safety and security issues in the area. The Senator has been meeting with other Manhattan democrats, the majority leader in Albany, and Senator Chuck Schumer about the status of the city budget. Nothing is certain until the federal COVID relief package is approved in Congress. Mr. Jackson has been involved in the discussions surrounding the Mayor’s intention to borrow money to fill budget gaps and prevent the devastation that would come from more budget cuts. Mr. Jackson referred to his monthly newsletter for more information on recent legislation. https://www.nysenate.gov/sites/default/files/article/attachment/robert_jackson_fall_2020_newsletter.pdf
-------------------------------	--

Assemblymember Dick Gottfried	Mr. Gottfried offered the following comments: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Regarding the homeless in the district, we have welcomed a lot of programs for homeless people and those with needy conditions. And what we always find is that what is needed is a strong program of services and security. Wherever we get that in place, through either the city or the provider, things work out a whole lot better. We have not seen that with the homeless in the hotels. Mr. Gottfried stressed the importance of voting in person – whether during early voting or on election day – to the extent one is able, notwithstanding the availability of mail-in ballots. The reason for that is because absentee votes will not show up in the count until a week or two after election day. It is going to be very important to the security of our country and the security of the election that the votes in Hell’s Kitchen and Chelsea show up in the national totals on TV on election night. Otherwise, massive disruption in the counting of ballots will follow. There is no way we are going to get enough help from Washington to dig ourselves out of the coronavirus hole. Or, to dig us out of the austerity budget hole that we have been digging deeper and deeper into even before the coronavirus has evolved. To do that, New York needs to enact a strong package of increased taxes on ultra-high wealth. Unless we increase the taxes on really ultra-high wealth, we are not going to be able to fund healthcare, education, housing, transportation, and a host of other needs.

Assemblymember Linda Rosenthal	Ms. Rosenthal gave these updates: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> She carried a bill about the “pink tax,” which is the practice of charging “pink products” or products targeted for women more than the same products that are targeted at men, which has been a long-standing practice. It was included in the budget and now gender-based discrimination in products and services will no longer be allowed. So, the pink razor should cost as much as the blue one. The same thing goes for the cost of dry cleaning. There was a recent ruling by Judge Arthur Engoron in which he declared mechanical voids in buildings to be in violation of zoning laws. As a result, he stopped construction on a building and prohibited the developer from placing mechanical equipment on lower floors to increase valuable building heights without

	adding to total FAR. Ms. Rosenthal and Senator Jackson have each proposed bills that would outlaw this practice. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Ms. Rosenthal wrote a letter in support of the WPE Committee letter to the Department of Parks – Agenda Item 7 – regarding the refurbishing and maintenance of the dog run in DeWitt Clinton Park. • Flu shots will be available on October 20 from 10 am to 3 pm at the Lincoln Square Neighborhood Center at West 65th Street for those who call or email the office for an appointment. • There will be a Rat Academy event on November 17 with various block associations. Anyone interested in attending should call or email the office.
Borough President Gale Brewer	Ms. Brewer provided the following updates: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Ms. Brewer reviewed the ongoing work dealing with the shelters in the district, including her letter to HRA Commissioner Banks, who has promised to get DHS staff to address the issues that have been raised. • She mentioned the NYCHA Chelsea Working Group, noting that it was good to have it up and running again because its work will influence all future discussions about RAD conversions in the Borough of Manhattan. • She visited the 10th, 13th, and 17th police precincts to greet their new commanding officers and to observe activity in the area. • She encouraged everyone to visit Pier 26 in Hudson River Park, describing it as “phenomenal.” She noted that one of her three appointees to the Trust, Douglas Durst, had resigned and she replaced him with Chair Kern as the representative of the CB4 area. • Ms. Brewer thanked the Board for working with Brian Lewis of her office on getting the LinkNYC kiosks along Eighth Avenue removed or relocated. They are working with DoITT to negotiate with the vendor of the kiosks. • Her office put out a list of the 100 public restrooms that remain open in Manhattan, not just for the homeless, but for the everyday New Yorker. • The office has been using its list of 35,000 residents who moved out of the city temporarily due to COVID to track them down and get them to fill out the census. It has also made headway with management at the larger apartment buildings to receive demographic information on residents who cannot be contacted. • There have been ongoing issues with getting digital devices to school children in a timely fashion. And, although the city has them, Ms. Brewer has just recently gotten permission to spend the money in the 2020 budget to acquire them.
Congressmember Jerrold Nadler	Congressman Nadler contributed the following comments: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The House last week past an updated Heroes Act, which is a modified bill from the legislation we passed back in May. The legislation once again provides economic relief for American families by providing stimulus checks, restoring and expanding the weekly $600 federal unemployment payments through next January, bolstering housing assistance through direct rent relief, and increasing food stamp benefits by 15%. It supports small businesses by improving the paycheck protection program, provides the hardest hit small businesses, nonprofits, and entrepreneurs with second loans, and provides state and local governments with the funding they need to help weather the pandemic. New York State itself will receive $21 billion and New York City about $9 billion. It provides essential support for transit infrastructure and contains substantial assistance for the MTA, which will allow the MTA to continue operations into next year. It fully funds the Postal Service and provides states with new resources to safeguard the integrity and security of our elections and ensuring the integrity of the 2020 census. • The package contains two pieces of legislation that Mr. Nadler sponsored: The Restaurants Act and the Save Our Stages Act. It will provide New York City

	additional targeted assistance for independent restaurants and live entertainment venues and theaters. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The House Judiciary Committee's antitrust subcommittee released the findings of its more than 16-month long investigation into the state of the digital economy, especially amongst dominating companies like Apple, Amazon, Google, and Facebook. The findings show the necessity of Congress to take action restoring competition and amending the antitrust laws.
Carl Wilson for Council Speaker Corey Johnson	Mr. Wilson gave his monthly update for the Speaker's office: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A large bulk of the time spent in CD4 during the past month has been working with several of the shelter providers that are in our district. We have been working very closely with our partners in government, which include the other local elected officials in CD4. We had a series of meetings with shelter providers and DHS concerning the shelters in our district. • We recently met with the shelter operators on 36th Street to discuss their operations and some of the complaints we've seen. We understand that each of the shelters there is adding two full-time security members who will focus exclusively on the outside of the shelter. They are expected to begin before the end of the month. • One of the problems we identified in the small-budget hotel shelters is the lack of programming space. So, we got in touch with Metro Baptist Church to find some programming space for a couple of providers. Things there look promising and we have scheduled a walkthrough for next week. • We have also been in touch with some of the general contractors about scaffolding that has been in place for an extended period on jobs that they are working on, specifically, 315 and 327 7th Avenue where we have been assured that the scaffolding would be down by the end of the month. • We have advised ACE, the supplemental cleaning service operating on West 36th Street that we provide funding for service on that block for four days a week, which they do from 8 am to 4 pm. • We have worked with the shelter provider at the Skyline Hotel to resolve problems relating to programming space and security. Residents have indicated that conditions have improved. • In September, we had a community cleanup day in partnership with our block associations and CB4. Also, new silver trash cans have been placed on every corner along 9th Avenue between 42nd and 57th Streets to replace the old wire baskets that were there.
Luke Wolf for Comptroller Scott Stringer	Mr. Wolf provided the following updates: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Comptroller launched his "Save Main Street" initiative in August as a crash relief program to help businesses reopen, stay open, and revive high-vacancy corridors that have been devastated by the pandemic. His report can be found here: https://comptroller.nyc.gov/reports/save-main-street/ • The office has put together a back-to-school guide to help parents and teachers as they prepare to head back to school. https://comptroller.nyc.gov/newsroom/2020-21-back-to-school-guide/ • The Comptroller has called upon the city to make public schools more inclusive for non-binary and gender non-conforming students. Right now, students do not have the option to self-identify as they would like on the city's online teaching platforms • The Comptroller's office was able to return over $2 million in stolen prevailing wages over the course of the pandemic to workers across the city. We will continue to do that work.

Board Reports & Business

Adoption of Agenda and Minutes	The Agenda and the September minutes, as amended, were unanimously approved.
Nominating Committee	Paul Devlin, Chair of the Nominating Committee, stated that the current board officers have expressed their interest to run for office again. Others may come forward as well. Interviews of nominees will be held in the coming weeks and the Committee will present a slate of recommended nominees at the November general meeting.
Budget Task Force	Jessica Chait, 2nd Vice Chair and Chair of the Budget Task Force, gave a status report. She stated that the task force was in the process of gathering feedback, not only from our committees but also from the community about what our priorities should be in terms of advocating for the 2022 budget. She encouraged the members to show up to their committees in these next few weeks and to go through the process of looking at what we put together previously and thinking of new topics that may have come to light as a result of COVID and what it has done to our city. Ms. Chait noted that the task force created a new survey for the community to use in providing input and that there have already been 120 responses. There is a link to the survey on the homepage of the CB4 website. She asked that all responses be submitted by the 16th.
District Manager Report	Highlights of events the District Manager or Staff attended on behalf of the Board and upcoming events: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Due to the generosity of Brookfield Properties, and the assistance of CB4 member Josephine Ishmon, the CB4 District Office was able to help deliver $5,000 to the PTA's of PS33 and PS51 for their re-opening needs.• Email Blast Highlight: I recommend taking the time to look at our email blast on the homeless situation in our district. It includes a report from the City's outreach teams with data on the number of folks housed as well as clean up locations and recognized hotspots. It also includes information to provide to people in need and ways the community can help.• MCB4 and HCC hosted a second Tenants Rights Information Session on Tuesday, September 15 at 6:00 pm.• Full Board Voting: All Full Board members need to fill out their virtual vote sheet immediately after the role-call vote is conducted. The office cannot accept late vote sheets of any kind. The vote count listed in letters is based on individual member vote sheets. October Committee Updates and Board Reminders: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The office will be closed on Monday, October 12.• ACES Committee will be meeting on Tuesday, October 20.• Budget Task Force will be meeting on Thursday, October 22.• CB4 Nominating Committee is tentatively scheduled to meet on Monday, October 26 at 5 pm.
Board Chair Report	The Chair reviewed recent Board activity and upcoming events: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• CB4 Members attended a call with the Shelter Provider at the Skyline Hotel with the Speaker's office and the Midtown North Precinct and community stakeholders.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • CB4 members continue to attend the Bi-weekly CBO meeting re harm reduction/street homeless initiatives organized by the Speakers Office. • The Chelsea NYCHA Working Group has begun to meet (Joe, Betty, Elzora, and Mike Noble). • CB4 Budget Task Force released a community survey yesterday. Second Vice Chair and Chair of the Budget Task Force Jessica Chait worked hard to get it out in time. The Chair announced his recent appointment as the CB4 representative to the Hudson River Park Trust by the Borough President. He noted that, in the future, he would be recusing himself in all instances where the possibility of a conflict of interest might exist.
