November 2021 Full Board Minutes

Meeting Date / Location	The Full Board met at 6:36 pm on Wednesday, November 3, 2021, via Zoom webinar and was simultaneously live streamed on YouTube. It can be viewed here: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KW8569Y6ttl
Presentation / Public Hearing	Presentation: Inspector Megan O’Malley, commanding officer of the Midtown North Precinct, gave an overview of her command and noted that she hears residents most often asking for more police presence on the streets. She reviewed crime statistics for the year-end periods October 31, 2020, and 2021 noting that crime is up by 2%, or about 100 more crimes for the period. Grand larceny is consistently the most common crime in her precinct. When comparing statistics over a two-year period, the only increase has been in burglaries, with an increase of about 30 cases. Crime has been up slightly during the past 4 weeks compared to 2 years ago. Inspector O’Malley answered questions from members that had to do with preventing bike theft; reconciling the discrepancy in actual crime statistics and the perception of crime presented by the Citizen mobile app; the reduced allocation of personnel to the precinct; whether the NYPD is working with school administrators in addressing the dangers young women have been facing when travelling to and from school; the assignment of officers to foot patrols; and, how the precinct compares to other precincts around the City in terms of crime statistics and staffing. She indicated that there was only one shooting incident in the precinct during the past year, making it about the lowest in the City. Public Hearing: Manhattan Community Board 4’s Statement of District Needs and Budget Requests for Fiscal Year 2023 First Vice Chair Jessica Chait opened the hearing and noted that the matter would be taken up in the business session of the meeting. No speakers came forward from the public and the hearing was closed.

She voiced her outrage over the fact that the LPC has allowed the DOB to dictate the future of these buildings and is therefore failing to protect them in accordance with its stated mission to protect them. She read aloud from a letter addressed to the Mayor and LPC seeking detailed information about the dealings each have had with the developer who is conducting the deconstruction.

Remarks from Elected Officials and Representatives
Borough President Gale Brewer	Ms. Brewer provided the following comments and updates: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• She was surprised to learn earlier in the meeting that the Midtown Community Court was still closed for in-person hearings and promised to look into having it reopened soon.</li> <li>• She characterized Governor Hochul’s recently announced plan for Penn Station as “Penn Station Restoration Renovation First and Gateway 2025.” Ms. Brewer’s concerns are about affordable housing and about the good things that can go on above and below ground.</li> <li>• She joined the many groups who are speaking about the Gansevoort Market landmarked rowhouses in seeking a way to preserve them.</li> <li>• There are 35 elected officials from New York and New Jersey who are now trying to shut down the tourist helicopters that are flying over Manhattan and Brooklyn.</li> <li>• The community board leadership training program will run until the end of the month. Details are on the Borough President’s website.</li> <li>• The Redistricting Commission is meeting on November 10 to resolve disagreements about its plan. The biggest problems involve Inwood and Washington Heights because of their large population loss.</li> <li>• She is working to resolve the Open Meetings issue before January 15. Her office has distributed OWL devices to community boards in anticipation of the hybrid meeting option.</li> <li>• The office holds meetings every Tuesday at 3:00 pm to discuss vaccines and their funding sources.</li> <li>• Ms. Brewer supports congestion pricing and is awaiting the Governor to appoint a task force to set toll prices and finalize the program. She reiterated her desire to see someone from CB4 who has transportation knowledge to be appointed to the task force.</li> <li>• Brian Lewis from her office has been working on the Penn South Commercial Site 5 Project.</li> <li>• There will be a Manhattan Futures reception at John Jay College on December 12 – details are forthcoming.</li> </ul>
Assemblymember Dick Gottfried	Mr. Gottfried gave these updates: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• He was pleased to learn at a press conference earlier in the day that Governor Hochul has a plan to prioritize the remaking of the existing Penn Station. She was also very emphatic about looking to include stakeholder input into the plans for that, as has been done with the Empire Station Complex project. She did a sort of short preview of the responses that we were expecting to get from Empire State Development about the recommendations that the Community Advisory Committee Working Group submitted a couple of months ago. She talked about reducing the density of the new development, something we very much want to have happen, and a commitment to affordable housing. She says it bothers her that this major transportation hub for North America is named after an adjoining state and wants us to come up with a new name.</li> <li>• He and Senator Hoylman are introducing legislation to amend the Hudson River Park Act to get the heliport out of Hudson River Park once and for all.</li> </ul>

Robert Atterbury for Congressman Jerry Nadler	Mr. Atterbury gave an overview of the Congressman’s activities in the House: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The House Judiciary Committee passed Mr. Nadler’s bill, the Nondebtor Release Prohibition Act, which builds on the Sackler Act that prohibits companies from using bankruptcy as a way to get around being responsible for legal judgments such as those associated with the opioid crisis.</li> <li>• The Judiciary Committee also passed the Forced Arbitration Injustice Repeal Act which prohibits an arbitration agreement from being valid or enforceable if it requires arbitration of an employment, consumer, antitrust, or civil rights dispute.</li> <li>• A hearing was held today on judicial ethics where the bipartisan, bicameral legislation known as the Courthouse Ethics and Transparency Act was introduced. That Act requires federal judges to submit securities transaction reports and have them available online, as other federal officials are required to do.</li> <li>• The Congressman has been deeply involved in negotiations to keep certain immigration provisions in the Build Back Better Act when it passes. One of those provisions would protect about 7 million people from removal and provide them work authorizations. These are the people who are undocumented or have lapsed authorizations to be in the country, including 1.6 million Dreamers, 3.6 million essential workers, and a million farm workers.</li> <li>• Mr. Nadler also reintroduced the Empower Act, and the State Justice Improvement Act which incentivizes states to find alternatives to bail and do away with excessive court fines and fees that target low-income communities.</li> <li>• The office has been pushing for the State to provide for more stakeholder involvement in the Penn Station transportation aspect of the redevelopment, not just the overall Empire Station Complex plan that the working group has been involved with. That is what the Governor announced today when she spoke of the MTA stakeholder advisory group that she is forming.</li> <li>• Mr. Atterbury explained the Penn Station redevelopment plan in greater detail, noting that it is actually comprised of 4 distinct pieces that are happening at the same time: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ The Gateway Project – building tunnels under the Hudson River.</li> <li>○ Penn expansion which is about building tracks and platforms under Block 780 – the area to the south of Penn Station. This is currently in the federal NEPA process that must be concluded before all of the proposals in the General Project Plan can be accomplished.</li> <li>○ The General Project Plan which deals with all of the zoning around Penn Station and provides a general framework for the redevelopment.</li> <li>○ The renovation of Penn Station itself, which the Governor touched on in her press conference today along with the General Project Plan.</li> </ul> </li> </ul>
Leslie Espaillat for Senator Robert Jackson	Ms. Espaillat provided updates from the Senator’s office: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• He proposed the environmental rights amendment to the State Constitution that was voted on and passed yesterday. It is a very simple amendment that says each person shall have a right to clean air, water, and a healthful environment.</li> <li>• The office has been busy dealing with the Emergency Rental Assistance Program. We are urging anyone, especially in our District 31, if you need assistance with rent or utilities then contact the Senator’s office. Applications for small business recovery funds should also be made quickly because those funds will be running out soon.</li> <li>• The office completed our next-to-last food pantry and the last one will be on November 17 in partnership with the West Side Campaign against Hunger. Each food pantry provided 175 to 200 families with food packages.</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The office has been using a COVID concern form that allows staff to flag concerns of students, teachers, and administrators so that they may get help in the community or in our office. Anyone who has such a concern should contact the office.</li> <li>• Quality-of-life issues remain at the top of the list for the Senator, and he has been working with the Precincts and the community to address them.</li> </ul>
