April 2022 Full Board Minutes

Meeting Date / Location	The Full Board met at 6:30pm on Wednesday, April 6, 2022, via Zoom webinar and was simultaneously live streamed on YouTube. It can be viewed at: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XhxJ1XInk6U
Presentation	Presentation: Inspector Robert O’Hare from the New York Police Department (NYPD) Midtown South Precinct <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For the prior 28-day period, crime in the precinct was up almost 40% vs. last year including an increase of 3 robberies (36 vs. 33 last year), 20 more burglaries (51 vs. 31 last year), and almost twice the number of grand larcenies (161 vs. 88 last year). However, felony assaults are down, 26 vs. 43 last year. For the year, the precinct is up 51% in crime. • The year-over-year contributors to the large grand larceny increase are that more people are around Midtown and leaving property unattended which gets stolen, people having their credit cards stolen, and an increase in shoplifts involving over $1,000 in property. • The biggest contributor to the increase in robberies are shoplifts gone bad, where there’s threatened use of force against store employees or security. • Additional police from other units have been put in place around the Penn Station and Herald Square area nightly from around 6pm. However, 8th/9th Avenue crime reduction foot patrols (from 36th to 45th Streets) were reduced from 7 nights to 3 nights a week in January. • The police have been active in addressing crime and quality of life complaints. Midtown South arrests are up 37% this year: 1,481 this year vs. 1,084 last year. Quality of life contacts are also up: 675 Office of Administration Trials and Hearings (OATH) summonses, which are civil in nature, vs. 32 last year. 220 criminal court summonses vs. 140 last year. • Midtown South Community Council meetings are on the 4th Tuesday of the month, currently being held on Zoom. The next one is on April 26 at 6:30pm. Build the Block meetings for each sector are also held quarterly; dates are available on the NYPD website.
Public Hearing	Public Hearing: Comments on the Mayor’s Fiscal Year 2023 Preliminary Budget The Manhattan Community Board 4 (MCB4) Budget Task Force has written a letter on the Mayor’s Fiscal Year 2023 Proposed Budget, which is included as agenda item 20. This public hearing was an opportunity for public comment on the Budget.
Public Hearing Speakers

Catie Savage	Ms. Savage is a Hell’s Kitchen resident and Founder of the Hell’s Kitchen Litter Legion. She is concerned that the Mayor is proposing a reduction in the City’s sanitation budget by $50 million, impacting corner basket pickup and halting expansion of the composting program. The composting cuts would mean that our district wouldn’t get composting in the foreseeable future. We also saw the negative impacts of reducing litter basket pickups when they were cut in the FY21 budget. Moreover, the weekly pickups are not currently part of the baseline budget which will increase reliance on overtime; we need to plan for multiple years and not just one year out.

Public Session Speakers

Miguel Acevedo	Mr. Acevedo is the Tenant Association President of Robert Fulton Houses. He is concerned about the construction on 9 th Avenue, which has been going on for years, throughout the day and night. The noise is unbearable for Fulton House residents. Additionally, clubs on 16 th Street and 9 th Avenue are causing a backup of traffic, which results in noisy honking. Third, Mr. Acevedo asserts that bail reform has caused a revolving door of crime; someone released on a gun charge recently killed someone near Fulton Houses. Residents are frustrated about homeless people sleeping in the building, and crime is causing nearby business closures due to shoplifting.
Missy Adams	Ms. Adams has lived on 9 th Avenue near 28 th Street in the Chelsea Historical District for more than 20 years. She objects to the proposed gates on 20 th Street, which would diminish the appearance of the buildings without making the houses any safer. The gates would put the residences at odds with other stoops down the block and would make the building look barricaded. The entrances and steps were also not built to have gates. Moreover, people can still access the stoops even if the gates were installed. People aren’t sleeping on the stoops on the block- they are currently going to the dark restaurant structures.
Lisa Wager	Ms. Wager is Director of Government and Community Relations at the Fashion Institute of Technology. In advance of Earth Day, the school completed its 16 th Annual Sustainable Business and Design Conference, part of the school’s commitment to teaching sustainability as well as demonstrating its own operational best practices. This year’s conference theme was Pathways to Impact and focused on the intersectionality of sustainable practices. Werewool, founded by FIT alumni, designs fibers at the DNA level to reduce microfiber pollution and was recently recognized in the Conservation X Labs Microfiber Innovation Challenge.
Wendy Solem	Ms. Solem has lived in NYC for 40 years and near the Theological Seminary in Chelsea for 13 years. She is opposed to the proposed gates on 20 th Street. Ms. Solem asserts that landmarking should protect historic architecture, and the gates would instead spoil the beauty of the building and give it a defensive, less friendly appearance. The homeless people on the street move along, whereas the gates would be a permanent part of the buildings. Ms. Solem also agrees about the need to do more to prevent crime.
Shelli Rosen	Ms. Rosen is a resident of Penn South and is advocating for a temporary dog run on 25 th between 8 th and 9 th Avenues as the West Side Chelsea dog run is being renovated. During the renovation, there’ll be nowhere in the area for dogs to run around off leash, which is important for their socialization. Ms. Rosen has started a petition in support of the temporary dog run, with almost 300 signatures so far. Dog runs are not any noisier than playgrounds and are a great way to promote community.
Tina DiFelicianantonio	Ms. DiFelicianantonio, a member of MCB4, called attention to the little white styrofoam balls that fly in the air and land on the street and subsequently wash into the sewers, which is harmful to the environment. She has found that these can come from construction sites. The Department of Buildings (DOB) dictates how the sides of buildings get finished, and some of this is done using this type of styrofoam material. Ms. DiFelicianantonio would like the board and electeds to look into this issue given its environmental impact.

Remarks from Elected Officials and Representatives
Councilmember Gale Brewer	Councilmember Brewer said that City Council is advocating for a cleaner NYC, so it is advocating for the following changes to the proposed City budget: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • $22 million more for corner basket pick-up • $47 million more for general sanitation, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ $18+ million to restore composting ○ $5 million for rat mitigation ○ $3+ for education in schools about climate issues, zero waste, etc. • $52 million more for the Parks Department <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ We want 1% of the City budget for Parks, which percentage the Mayor has publicly supported in the past • More money for homeless services Councilmember Brewer also commended the Encore Community Services for being a great program for seniors. She said that she had a very good experience volunteering with them the previous weekend. Vacant store fronts continue to be a significant problem. The Manhattan Chamber of Commerce just got a large grant to address this issue, and Councilmember Brewer will be working with the Chamber of Commerce on the issue, and she encourages MCB4 to do the same. Other issues that Councilmember Brewer’s office is working to address: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Nuisances caused by Amazon delivery trucks • Shoplifting • Helicopters coming from New Jersey • Expansion of open hours at NYCHA community centers, especially on the weekends
Borough President Mark Levine	Borough President Levine’s office is pushing hard to settle the outstanding issues surrounding the Open Meeting Law. He is supportive of Senator Hoylman’s draft legislation that would allow Community Boards to use a hybrid model (allowing both in-person and virtual participation) when they chose. He also recognizes that need for resources to do hybrid well (e.g., technology and staff). Mr. Levine also addressed the rising rate of COVID cases in Manhattan. He said that the borough has surpassed the level of cases that trigger the yellow code (medium level of risk) per the CDC. Manhattan south of 96th street has the highest rate of transmission citywide. The Borough President’s office has developed a plan called “Stay Healthy to Stay Open”. COVID boosters are our #1 priority. The Borough President’s office is also fighting for the Parks budget to be restored to 1% of the City budget. In the 1960’s and 1970’s, the Parks budget was 1.5% of the City budget. – today it is only 0.5%. The Borough President concluded his remarks by giving a shout-out to Catie Savage for her good work on sanitation issues.

Natalie Naculich, for State Senator Brad Hoylman	Ms. Naculich introduced herself as the new Community Board representative for State Senator Hoylman’s office. She provided the following updates from his office: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Senator is working to help finalize the State budget, including pushing for more funding for (1) COVID relief (including for landlords and tenants) and (2) mental health initiatives. • The Senator is asking for the Penn Station Redevelopment plan to be put on hold until explanations are provided to the public about the cost, design, scope, bond liabilities and other unknown aspects of the project. • The Senator sponsored Bill S6172 which has passed the State Senate. The purpose of the bill is to strengthen New York’s laws to prevent and enforce against tampering with vehicle emissions control devices.
Erica Overton, for Assemblymember Linda Rosenthal	Assemblymember Rosenthal’s office has been busy, including working on the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A redesign of the intersection at West 42nd St. and 11th Ave. After a walk-through with DOT, the office submitted detailed requests, and are very pleased to announce that DOT has agreed to all of the changes that were requested. • Idling continues to be a significant problem. DEP has agreed to convene an Anti-Idling Task Force in mid-April. • Together with Senator Hoylman’s office, Assemblymember Rosenthal spearheaded a letter about the MTA site so the office is hoping for some meetings about that soon to allow for more affordable housing. • Trash piling up near the corner of 46th street and 10th Ave. The office worked with the Department of Sanitation to create a new solution in that area so that trash is not piling up near Village Care. • Also about sanitation, the office did one walk-through with DSNY and are scheduling a follow-up walk-through to address the critical issues in our neighborhoods.
Betsy Schmid, for Congresswoman Carolyn Maloney	Congresswoman Maloney was very pleased to be present today as President Biden signed into law the bill that she proposed – the Postal Service Reform Act, which will provide sound financial footing to the US Postal Service after years of losses, and will ensure 6 day per week service for all Americans. She has voted in favor of all aid packages to the Ukraine, as well as strong action against Russian oligarchs. The Congresswoman’s office is excited to be taking part in the Congressional Art Competition. This is for high school students, and the deadline to submit a piece is May 5. Winning art pieces will be shown in the halls of Congress for a year.
Eric Strazza, for Manhattan District Attorney Alvin Bragg	Mr. Strazza introduced himself as the new Community Engagement person for District Attorney Bragg’s office, and provided the following updated from the office: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • DA Bragg recently started the Manhattan Small Business Alliance to combat shoplifting and commercial theft, and has started meeting with the small business owners who are part of the Alliance. • The 37th Annual Crime Victims’ Candlelight Vigil will take place on April 24th from 2-4 pm, and it is part of National Crime Victims’ Rights Week. • The DA’s office is offering a Gun Violence Prevention Fellowship. This paid summer internship is available at the DA’s Community Partnership Unit. The deadline for this summer internship for college and high-school aged students has been extended to April 22.
